Argentines 2013

Argentina's national day is celebrated on May 25th, marking the day of the 1810 Revolution. The day is celebrated with various activities, including parades, fireworks, and traditional Argentine music and dance.

The Argentine Revolution of 1810 was a pivotal moment in the country's history, leading to the establishment of the first national government. The revolution was a result of the growing desire for independence from Spanish colonial rule, which had been fueled by the Enlightenment and the success of the American and French revolutions.

The revolution was a complex process, involving various social and political groups. The military played a key role, but the revolution was also supported by the bourgeoisie and the middle class, who sought to end the dominance of the Spanish aristocracy.

How to build a better world from the inside out

By David G. Myers
and Sherry R. Myers

It's a common theme in the world of business: "We're not just a company, we're a community." But what does that mean? Is it just a slogan to make you feel good about your company? Or is it a way of life? The Myerses, a husband-and-wife team, have spent the last 20 years building a community of people who are committed to making a difference in the world. They've done this by creating a company that is not just a business, but a place where people can grow and thrive. They've also created a community of people who are committed to making a difference in the world.
